

#In-house

In-house production is an activity that is conducted by employees within the same business. The task is carried out using the time and effort of the in-house employees and any other assets that the company already has.

