

#Repair Services

Repair services mean the restoration of equipment to its original function on an 'as-needed' basis, as may be required by the facility in response to the failure or malfunctioning of such equipment. The repair process may also include servicing, reconditioning, modification,

