#Web-Tracking

The information that is collected about how the users interact with the brand's website. This could be traffic, the user's product preferences etc.